

Man Sought in Slaying Gives Up

NEW YORK (AP)—A fugitive paroled, sought in the slayings of two policemen, surrendered Wednesday night after arranging with an Associated Press reporter and photographer to give himself up.

Thomas (Rabbi Tom) Trantino, 27, walked into a police station less than 18 hours after detectives had shot to death another man wanted in the case, Frank Falco, 25, in a Manhattan hotel hideout. They had been sought for the deaths of two Lodi, N.J., policemen who were forced to undress and then were shot down in a night spot Monday.

Trantino and his lawyer, Enid Gerling, met reporter Tony Alborelli and photographer Ray Howard in a tavern around a corner from the police station where he was to surrender. Together, they went to police.

The fugitive, paroled two years ago from a robbery sentence, told Alborelli that he had wanted to get it off his chest, but had been afraid while Falco was alive.

Miss Gerling said Trantino admitted being in the Lodi club, the Angel Lounge, but denied shooting Sgt. Peter Voio, 40, and probationary Patrolman Gary Tedesco, 22.

Falco, unarmed and cursing, died in a furious struggle with eight detectives who charged into his room at the Hotel Manhattan, a block off Times Square, about 4 a.m. Wednesday.

Falco also had been sought for the Lower East Side tavern slaying of a teen-ager whose body was thrown into the East River. A third man and four young women, one of them Falco's estranged wife, are being held as material witnesses.

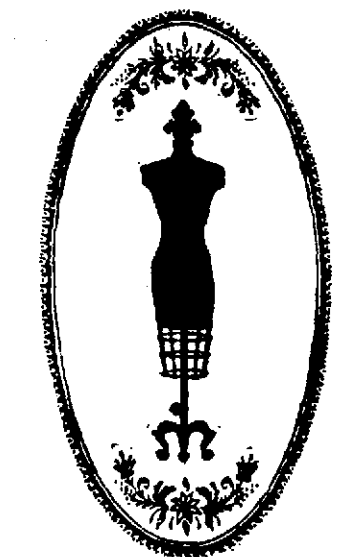

Trantino's lawyer telephoned The Associated Press that he wanted to surrender. It was arranged that Alborelli, Howard and motorcycle messenger George McNeven would meet the fugitive at the Village Bar on First Avenue between 21st and 22nd streets.

Alborelli recalled.

Farmer Burns to Death in Fire

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Raymond Camp, about 44, a farmer, burned to death Wednesday night in a fire that destroyed his home one mile northwest of Batesville.

Authorities said Camp lived alone in the frame house, which had been converted from a barn. They said he had moved to Batesville from Newport about nine months ago.

Coroner John Davies said he would take Camp's badly charred body to Little Rock today for an autopsy.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

Two Planes Disappear on Secret Flight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An oil slick and debris that looks like pieces of an airplane were found today in the Atlantic 500 miles east of Daytona Beach, Fla., by aircraft seeking two strato-lanker jet airplanes missing since Wednesday with 11 men aboard.

The discovery, made by a four-engine rescue craft from Bermuda, was the first positive lead as to the possible fate of the two KC135s that were on the same refueling mission from Homestead Air Force Base, Fla., said the Air Rescue Service at Orlando, Fla., AFB. An oil slick also was reported southwest of Bermuda late Wednesday. Its source was not known.

The HC54 master aircraft that made the find today circled the area while additional air and sea searchers rushed to the area. Paramedics were being sent to the scene.

Radio contact was lost about noon Wednesday as the huge tankers returned toward Homestead. At that time, they were 800 miles northeast of Miami, or about 300 miles west of Bermuda.

A spokesman of the Air Rescue Service said, "The debris looks like pieces of an airplane but that is all we know at this time."

The Air Force was unwilling to discuss the possible fate of the aircraft.

About 35 Air Force planes — ranging from amphibian HU16 Albatrosses to T29 trainers — flew over the Atlantic during the night, their search lights playing over the water, igniting flares occasionally to light an unidentified object. Air Rescue Service headquarters in Orlando said the total might reach close to 100 planes during the day.

The Coast Guard also sent out at least five ships and many planes.

The planes which have a range of 4,500 miles and a cruising speed of 600 miles an hour, would have run out of fuel at 6 p.m. Wednesday. Their mission, scheduled arrival time at Homestead and even the base from which they departed were classified.

Defiant Students to Return

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Fifty American students who defied a U.S. State Department ban on travel to Cuba checked in at Madrid's International Airport today for a flight back to the United States. Four others decided to remain here a bit longer.

Two of those staying were identified as John R. Glenn of Huntington, Ind., and his wife. The other two were not immediately identified.

Those arriving at the airport appeared to have done a clean-up and dress-up job for the journey. On arrival here, many of them looked like beatniks. But today many of the men had shaved off their Castro-style beards, or had them trimmed. Almost all were in clean clothing.

lived almost all special police details from duty.

At the height of the ceremonies, the crowds massed far east along the lengthy pool that reflects the Washington Monument and far north almost to the State Department and far south near the parkways by the Potomac River.

After the demonstration, A. Philip Randolph, 74, Negro director of the march and president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, said: The march has already achieved its objective. It has awakened and aroused the conscience of the nation."

McClellan Shocked at Pay Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., shocked over State Department use of funds voted for new typewriters to help meet a pay increase, charged Wednesday that Congress had lost control of the purse-strings.

William J. Crockett, deputy undersecretary of state for administration, said although Congress had approved funds last year to replace worn-out typewriters and other office equipment, it also ordered payment of higher salaries. He told a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee that Congress failed to provide funds for the pay hike and added that he and other officials often do not know the intent of Congress.

Crockett asked for an additional $13,700 to replace typewriters, adding machines and office equipment he said was 10 to 25 years old. The House voted $132,000 for this purpose recently.

This brought a comment by McClellan that Congress is wasting its time to vote money for equipment if it is used for pay increases.

Crockett said the House had lopped nearly $55 million off the State Department's $300 million budget.

This will not even keep us even," he said. We are facing a reduction in force of some 400 people."

The department is seeking restoration of a $9.8 million cut by the House from budget request of $162.8 million for salaries and expenses and is also asking nearly $40 million more.

McClellan told Crockett he wasn't blaming him for the misuse of the funds.

"I'm talking about the system which ought to be improved," he said.

Crossett Not to Buy Systems

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP) — The Crossett City Council decided Wednesday night not to follow through on a Monday night decision to attempt purchase of the Crossett Public Utilities Co.

The council voted to make a further study of a special report on the proposed purchase, but failed to pass an ordinance referring the idea to voters.

Georgia-Pacific Corp. failed to pick up its option on the firm last spring after it bought the Crossett Co., lumber operations, sparking interest of the city in acquiring the property.

The utility company pays the city $220 privilege tax on gas, water, telephone and electric services.

The utility is now owned by Stephens, Inc., a Little Rock investment firm. Officials of Stephens have said they were opposed to acquisition of the utility by Crossett.

Expenditure of up to $2,000 for a legal survey of the proposed transaction was approved by the council. It also approved a study to determine whether there would be sufficient funds on hand to present the city's case to the Public Service Commission if that becomes necessary.

Two Women Are Slashed to Death

NEW YORK (AP)—Two attractive young women were found slashed to death in their Manhattan apartment Wednesday night.

The bodies were bound hand and foot.

Three blood-stained kitchen knives were found in the $250-a-month apartment on East 88th Street, a fashionable neighborhood. Police said the knives belonged in the apartment.

The apartment had been ransacked. The bedroom where the bodies were found was almost torn apart, a detective said, indicating the young women put up a fierce fight.

Killed were: Janice Wylie, 21, blonde editorial employee of Newsweek magazine, daughter of Max Wylie, writer-radio-television producer and director and a niece of author Philip Wylie.

Emily Hoffert, 23, brunette daughter of Dr. Henry Hoffert, Minneapolis surgeon. She had left home less than a month ago to begin a teaching career next month at Valley Stream, N.Y., on Long Island.

They shared the four-room furnished apartment with roommate Patricia Tolles, 23, an editorial employee of Time magazine and daughter of Winton Tolles, dean of Hamilton College at Clinton, N.Y.

A business associate of Miss Wylie's father said she had told employees at Newsweek about threatening calls from a lunatic who used obscene language."

Miss Tolles said her roommates were getting dressed when she left at 9 a.m. Wednesday for work. Miss Wylie was nude when found dead. Miss Hoffert wore a skirt, blouse, shoes and stockings.

Miss Tolles found the apartment in disorder when she returned home about 6:30 p.m. She telephoned Miss Wylie's father, who lives nearby. Wylie rushed to the apartment and found the bodies.

Chief Medical Examiner Milton Halpern said that so far as he could determine—pending autopsies—neither victim had been sexually molested.

Strips of bedsheets had been used to bind the two young women.

There was no sign of forced entry to the apartment, which is on the third floor of a nine-story

Plane Crashes, Pilot Injured

CLAY, W.Va. (AP) — Edward Beeler, 37, of Jacksonville, Ark., suffered back and face injuries Wednesday when he crash-landed his plane on a hillside near Clay.

Beeler was forced to bring his single-engine plane down near the small community of Servia in Braxton County when his engine stopped while on a flight from Philadelphia to Bowling Green, Ky.

He was taken by ambulance to a Charleston hospital, where he was listed in serious condition.

Hospital Bonds

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP)—Lincoln County voters will decide Sept. 24 whether to levy a four-mill tax on themselves to help finance construction of the county's first hospital. The special election call also includes a maintenance tax. The hospital would cost about $432,000 and would have 25 beds.

building. Miss Tolles said nothing of value seemed to have been stolen.

Police Chief Takes Retirement

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock Police Chief R. E. Glasscock officially resigned Wednesday after securing retirement rights through a brief reinstatement to his post.

The action forewent any appeal by Glasscock from his dismissal Aug. 19 by City Manager Ancil Douthit. Glasscock had been on the force 28 years.

Douthit said at the time of Glasscock's dismissal that the reason involved personnel.

Glasscock said Wednesday a hearing on the matter would not be in the best interests of the police department.

The dismissal of Glasscock came after he had fired two other Little Rock police officers, Assistant Chief William H. Maack and Capt. Paul Terrell.

Both Maack and Terrell have appealed. A hearing on Maack's dismissal is set Friday. Terrell's hearing is expected to begin Tuesday.

Each reason for the dismissal of the three officers has not been made public.

Takes Exception to Van Dalsem

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rep. Jim Brandon of Pulaski County took exception Wednesday to remarks of Rep. Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County that women who lobby the state legislature were frustrated.

Van Dalsem made the comment before a Little Rock civic club Tuesday.

Brandon said in a statement issued Wednesday that Van Dalsem's talk could not even be considered an attempt at literary satire, that he (Brandon) had praised women for their interest in politics and that the Perry County representative must be growing old—politically.

Killed by Car

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Diane Bradford, 5, of Pine Bluff was struck and killed by a car Wednesday night at an intersection in West Pine Bluff. Police reports said the girl darted into the path of a car driven by Ruby Jean Perkins, 39, of Pine Bluff.

Hints Future May Bring Violence

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The discipline and tranquility of Wednesday's civil rights demonstration will not be the permanent condition of the American Negro if he continues to be frustrated. As they marched and stood in the sun for hours the massive quietude of perhaps 180,000 Negroes was amazing, when it is remembered how much in American life has been denied them. But this performance was for one day only.

The warning of brief quietude, if white Americans continue to deprive Negroes of equal treatment, came from the one Negro who above all has preached non-violent resistance, Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.

He said: "It would be fatal for the nation to overlook the urgency of the moment and to underestimate the determination of the Negro."

All but one of the speakers in this gigantic petition for redress of grievances talked with restraint about the desire for equal justice and the Negroes' hope that Congress will help them get it. The exception was John Lewis, the militant head of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

He revealed the bitter impatience just below the surface in himself and others with these words:

"This nation is still a place of cheap political leaders who build their careers on immoral compromise and ally themselves with open forms of political, economic and social exploitation."

What political leader can stand up and say my party is the party of principle? The party of Kennedy is also the party of Eastland. The party of Javits is also the party of Goldwater. Where is our party?"

It is now 95 years and one month since adoption of the 14th Amendment made the Negroes citizens beyond question and guaranteed them protection from any violation of their rights as citizens.

Their rights have been violated ever since. King, lest white people assume that because the Negro has endured this until now he is a permanent patsy and Wednesday's peaceful demonstration proved it, told both the crowd and the nation:

Those who hope the Negro needed to blow off steam and will now be content with a rude awakening if the nation returns to business as usual.

There will be neither rest nor tranquility in America until the Negro is granted his citizenship rights. The whirlwinds of revolt will continue to shake the foundations of our nation until the bright day of justice emerges.

He could not have given a clearer warning of turmoil unless the wrongs are righted. Not all Negroes have accepted King's philosophy of nonviolent resistance to injustice or evil.

They have shown they don't by some of their violent outbursts since he first began to use non-violent resistance, and successfully, with his peaceful boycott of the Montgomery, Ala., buses in 1955-56.

Only a comparative few at any time have accepted this philosophy from a leader. To believe it requires complete conviction it is the only right means to seek justice.

Millions of Indians practiced nonviolent resistance under the guidance of Mohandas Gandhi without believing it, as their later violence showed. But even Gandhi himself hadn't always practiced

THAT HALLELUJAH FEELING
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE
Dear Helen: You weren't kidding when you said men had it too good. Mine did. Yet he couldn't understand when I broke my shackles and after 36 years of slavery, was finally a free woman. For the first time since I promised to Love, honor and obey my tyrannical Casanova, I do not have to beg, plead and grovel. And Boy, I sit a Hallelujah feeling!

Yet, I hunger for the sound of his voice, dictatorial ways and—yes, his beatings. Nonetheless, a wife in India in his time it just happened to be a necessary technique of resistance to the British when the British had superior power. When the Indians got their independence thousands of Hindus and Moslems slaughtered one another.

In this country racial violence was increasing until the time for Wednesday's civil rights march drew near. Then the violence disappeared as if to let the march dominate the scene. It's over now.

But the discriminations against Negroes are not over. Their determination to batter down the discriminations, as King pointed out, are not over. Therefore more violence can be expected, perhaps on an increasing scale.

battered by physical and verbal tongue lashings is like a cowed animal who has lost its own self-respect and that of others. My wonderful children are the only good to come out of my horrible marriage. By the grace of God I've reared them to be fine, Christian citizens. They've got splendid husbands who respect them. It was my misfortune to draw a selfish, petty, childish and boastful bully, but—I miss him! How to cure a loneliness like mine? Do you know the answer?

Dear Another: Having achieved emancipation you foolishly waste your precious freedom pining away for your slave driver. Of course you miss him, as you would any habit. After living with a man for 36 years there is bound to be a void when he departs. You had enough gumption to break your shackles, now muster up a bit more and build a new life for yourself, based upon dignity and self-respect. Since you are free and, assume, independent, make the most of your golden opportunity by doing the things which you longed to do when tied down.

You could become a valuable asset to the community if you would only stop wallowing in the mire of past misery and start thinking about what you can do for others. "Try Giving Yourself Away" is the title of a book which made a tremendous impression upon many people when published several years ago. Read it. See if your library has a copy. The best cure for loneliness is action, and I don't necessarily mean physical action. Mental exercise can be just as invigorating as a swim in the ocean. Take up a new hobby or interest. Learn a foreign language. Enroll in an adult education class. Volunteer your services at your local hospital or church. The opportunities are endless.

Now, as to your second question: how can a girl recognize a heel before it's too late? By being on her toes mentally.

Oddly enough, some women prefer heels and will mate with them despite warnings from all quarters. Fiction is crammed with females who thrill to being roughed up, who give credence to that old joke: A woman is like a gong; she should be struck regularly to keep her vibrant. Fortunately this isn't the code of a gentleman! Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, Ambition."

Dear Helen: When I was 13, I had to prove my love for a boy. Afterwards, he went steady with another girl. Now—my baby will have no father. Mother will die when I tell her. Should I reveal his name and marry him? I do love him. Please print this so that other young girls may see it doesn't pay to go all the way—A Reader

Dear Reader: You didn't prove your love," you simply proved your weakness. Real love doesn't need proof. Inasmuch as you need your parents' consent to be married, you had better tell your mother the truth. But 14 is too young to marry. Why compound your mistake? Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a list of adoption agencies in your area.

Dear Helen: How does one recognize love? I meet lots of guys who arouse the same emotions in me; pitter-patter heart at sight; lonely as all get out when he leaves; fidgety as a cat if he doesn't phone at the appointed time. Is it just the same when Mr. Right comes along? And if so, how will I know he is Mr. Right?—Help Me.

Dear Help: True love is composed of many ingredients, some of which are mutual admiration, emotional security, contentment, common interests and a realistic acceptance of each other. If you have these feelings about many men then probably none is Mr. Right. When it comes along, you won't need to be told, you'll know!

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mercury Hits 107 in Parts of Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A blazing sun and clear skies sent temperatures rocketing to 107 degrees at Little Rock, Gilbert and Ozark Wednesday, but a cold front edged into northwest Arkansas this morning, touching off showers and cooler weather. Heavy clouds were shielding northern and central Arkansas today, and high temperatures were expected to range from the mid 80s north to the low 90s south, well below the record 108 reported in 1930.

The Little Rock high, always the highest for an Aug. 28 since 1954 when it was 103. Other highs Wednesday included 106 at Fort Smith; 105 at Brinkley and Clarksville; 104 at Batesville, Dardanelle, Newport, Warren and Mountain Home, and 103 at Morrilton, Walnut Ridge and Jonesboro.

Heavy showers developed in northeast and western Arkansas late Wednesday dumping 2.85 inches of rain on Black Rock, 2.38 inches on Baskinburg, 2 inches on Hattiesville and more than an inch and a half on several other points.

The rain was accompanied by high winds in some areas, including Osceola where several hundred acres of cotton and soybeans were flattened.

No injuries were reported at Osceola, but the wind blew down a drive-in movie screen and a concrete-block wall under construction.

Walnut Ridge had some hail and high winds, but property damage was slight and no injuries were reported.

More than half an inch of rain had been reported at some northern points by mid-morning today, but the showers were expected to dissipate this afternoon as the cool front continued to move south. Some rain was expected to continue in southern Arkansas on Friday.

Cooler air was expected to seep into the state behind the front and continued cloudiness was expected to keep temperatures at a more reasonable level.

Overnight lows reported around the state this morning were generally in the 70s. Lows in the 60s were predicted for tonight.

LYING DOWN ON THE JOB—British Tommie looks like he's about to enter the astronaut race as he lies on a couch to operate levers. Instead of a capsule, however, he's demonstrating Britain's recently unveiled "killer" tank, the Chieftain. Driver of the low-profile tank lies on his back and steers through a periscope. Infrared headlamps and the periscope allow full-speed operation at night. Commander and gunner have infrared viewers with high magnification.

PRICKLY PROBLEM—Securely moored atop two specially designed heavy-duty flat cars, an odd looking 100-foot drum is given a last-minute check before leaving the Foster Wheeler Corp. plant at Mountaintop, Pa. Details on how the mammoth load was to be shipped were worked out between manufacturer and rail carrier even before it was built.

Search for Miner Is Intensified

By STANFORD H. BENJAMIN
HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Rescuers moved on several fronts today in intensified efforts to reach trapped miner Louis Bova, 54, as the possibility grew that a man would be sent underground to search for him.

Workers made preliminary preparations for enlarging a 12-inch escape hole, driven 305 feet Wednesday into a chamber where it is believed Bova may be trapped. He has been without food since the coal mine caved in 16 days ago.

Two other drilling probes—one a 6½-inch shaft, the other 3 inches—continued.

H. Beecher Charnbury, state secretary of mines, said plans called for reaming the first 38 feet of the 12-inch hole to 30 inches. Steel casing will be inserted to the 38-foot level. Then the remainder of the hole will be enlarged to 22 inches.

Charnbury said the earliest this operation could be completed would be midnight tonight.

There is a possibility that a man will be sent down the 22-inch hole to search for Bova, said Charnbury.

It looks like a man will be sent down," said Deputy Secretary Gordon Smith.

Officials would not say who the man might be but among the volunteers are David Fellin, 58, recuperating in Hazleton State Hospital since his rescue Tuesday from the cave-in, and a brother of Bova.

The drilling probes, patterned from a rough map of the mine supplied by Fellin, lie in a triangle. The 3-inch hole and the 12-inch hole are about 15 feet apart. The 6-inch hole is on another line 10 feet from the large hole.

Fellin and Henry Throne, 28, who also was rescued, were trapped in the Aug. 13 cave-in with Bova but he was separated from them by debris, and reportedly injured. Bova was last heard from six days after the cave-in when Fellin and Throne reported talking to him. They believe he is alive.

Bova's brother, John, 39, tearfully told Charnbury, I want to go down there. I just know my brother is alive. I've got to get to him.

Two attempts to take pictures down the 12-inch hole which were to be shown to Fellin and Throne, failed Wednesday.

Charnbury had said the possibility of sending a man down would depend largely on whether Fellin and Throne could identify, by looking at the pictures, the chamber where it is believed Bova was trapped.

Rescue workers sent down vacuum bottles filled with soup and milk. Yellow highway blinking lights were attached to the line in hopes that if Bova were alive the lights would guide him to the food.

Rescuers tried unsuccessfully for 2½ hours to make contact with Bova by a super sensitive microphone and loudspeaker. The equipment was lowered first into the 12-inch hole and later into a six-inch hole previously bored through to an open space apparently held only rubble.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

Dodgers Lose to Redlegs, Lead Only 5 1/2

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was close but no haircut for Red Patterson, the Los Angeles Dodgers' ace who just might wind up wearing ribbons round his ringlets before the National League leaders score four runs in one inning.

Patterson, the Dodgers' assistant general manager who has vowed not to get a haircut until his team has a four-run inning, watched Cincinnati push across four runs in the sixth inning and trim Los Angeles 9-5 Wednesday night.

Jim Maloney posted his 19th victory as the Dodgers went down to their fifth defeat in seven games. The loss cut the Dodgers' lead to 5 1/2 games over second-place San Francisco.

The Giants, who move into Los Angeles tonight for the opener of a four-game series, downed third-place St. Louis 5-3 as Tom Haller hit two homers and Chuck Hiller and Orlando Cepeda one each. The Cardinals remained 6 1/2 games behind.

The fourth-place Philadelphia Phillies closed to within seven games of the top by edging the Chicago Cubs 8-7 for their 12th victory in 15 games. Gene Oliver hit a grand slam and two-run homer in Milwaukee's 9-1 walloping of Houston and Pittsburgh downed the New York Mets 7-2.

The American League-leading New York Yankees defeated Boston 4-1. Detroit edged the Los Angeles Angels 2-1. Baltimore beat Kansas City 3-1 and the Chicago White Sox swept a pair from Cleveland 8-3 and 3-1. Minnesota and Washington were not scheduled.

The Dodgers, who have managed to score only 15 runs in their last seven games, collected eight hits against Maloney, 19-6, and reliever Joey Jay but again failed to get Patterson in the barber's chair. It's been nine days since they scored four runs in one inning.

The Reds' decisive four-run sixth revolved around Don Pavletich who had hit a homer off Johnny Podres, 11-10, in the fourth. With two on, Pavletich ripped a hard shot to third on which Tommy Davis started a double-play. However, umpire Frank Walsh ruled the ball was fielded in foul territory.

Pavletich went back to the plate and laid down a bunt. Davis fielded it, hesitated, then threw high to Jim Gilliam covering first base, and two runs scored. Singles by

Speedy Scot Wins, Floris Challenged

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Speedy Scot won the Hambletonian as expected, but it was unsung Floris who made the premier race for 3-year-old trotters a historic one. The $115,549 Hambletonian was decided in three heats Wednesday. Floris, winner of only one trot in eight starts this season, stunned the 23,000 fans in the stands by taking the first mile by a head over Speedy Scot in 1:57 3-5.

The 115,549 Hambletonian was decided in three heats Wednesday. Floris, winner of only one trot in eight starts this season, stunned the 23,000 fans in the stands by taking the first mile by a head over Speedy Scot in 1:57 3-5.

It was the fastest mile by a 3-year-old trotter in history, whether in a race or against the stopwatch.

Into the dust of the Du Quoin clay mile oval went the Hambletonian record of 1:58 2-5 by Harlan Dean in 1961 and the world competitive mark for 3-year-old trotters of 1:58 1-5 by Caleb at Lexington, Ky. in 1961.

In the second heat, Speedy Scot defeated Floris and his 60-year-old driver, Harry Pownall, by three-fourths of a length in 1:58. In the third and decisive mile, the two colts again battled through the stretch, Speedy Scot finishing first by a length in 1:58 3-5.

It was the 47-year-old Ralph Baldwin's first Hambletonian triumph in 13 attempts. And the combined winning time of the three heats of 5 minutes, 54 seconds was the fastest on record for a divided three-heat harness race, regardless of gait or age.

Speedy Scot, owned by Castle Farm of Lexington, Ky., boosted his career record to 20 victories in 26 starts. With the $56,619 top prize, he swelled his earnings to $238,710.

Floris, owned by Arden Homestead Stable of Goshen, N.Y., piled up $29,309 for second. Money for the other three places was $13,588 to Elma (8-3-5), $9,059 to Choir Boy (3-9-10) and $5,661 to Buff Hanover (9-11-3).

Sea water is a source of chemicals such as magnesium, bromine and salt—and a pennyworth of gold in every million gallons.

Johnny Edwards and Pete Rose brought in the other two runs.

Also Rans in Golf Have Fine Chance

DENVER (AP)—Opportunity's doors opened wide today for pro golf's also-rans as the $40,000 Denver Open Tournament began without Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Julius Boros and Gary layers.

The absence of the Big Four attracted a Denver Open record entry list of 147 pros. The field will be trimmed after Friday's second round to low 65 pros plus ties and 10 amateurs for the last two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

With golf's super-stars busy with other commitments there was no outstanding favorite for the tourney over the Denver Country Club's 6,774-yard, par 35-40, tight, tree-lined course.

Dow Finsterwald was rated perhaps a niche above the others after copping the pro-amateur event Wednesday with a two-under-par 68, worth $500. In last year's final round over the same course he carved out a 64, but it was too late to overtake Bob Goalby who won with 277, three under par. Goalby is back to defend his title.

The par was broken Wednesday by five other pros among the 50 who teamed with 150 amateurs for the pro-am competition. George Bayer, Jacky Cupit, Jay Hebert, Doug Sanders and Ken Still turned in 69. Each collected $330.

The Facts of Life Around Arkansas

By J. C. TILLMAN

Rainmaker Homer Berry had some competition this week in Pine Bluff.

Holly Good, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Good of Albuquerque, N.M., who was visiting in the city, showed some other children how the Indians in New Mexico perform a rain dance.

Shortly after her demonstration, when Holly and her friends went indoors to eat lunch, one of the children looked out the window and shouted:

Look! Look! It worked! It worked! It's raining!

It rained only a few minutes. But then Holly is only six.

The 25 soldiers put up $1 each, then drew to see who would win the lot to make a call home.

The call was made to his parents at their Arlington Heights, Ill., winter home at mid-day in Korea—3 a.m. in Illinois.

Those Yankees Just Keep on Rolling Along

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

They're calling Charlie Dressen the Quiet Man—but his Detroit Tigers are making the loudest noise in baseball.

Hardly a word has been heard from Dressen, one of the game's angry old men, since he succeeded Bob Scheffing as manager of the slump-ridden Tigers on June 18. The normally outspoken veteran with a penchant for controversy has been the epitome of decorum. The Tigers have been roaring.

They won their seventh straight Wednesday for their best streak of the year, nipping the Los Angeles Angels 2-1. In the past two weeks, Detroit has taken 12 of 14 in a climb from ninth place to fifth in the American League. Under Dressen the Tigers are 39-30, compared to their 24-36 mark under Scheffing.

Whitey Ford became the AL's first 19-game winner as the front-running New York Yankees scored three times on wild pitches by Earl Wilson and downed Boston 4-1.

Also in the AL—the Chicago White Sox broke a tie with the Minnesota Twins for second place, sweeping a doubleheader from Cleveland 8-3 and 3-1 behind Juan Pizarro and Eddie Fisher; and homers by Jackie Brandt and Jerry Adair in support of Milt Pappas' three-hit pitching led Baltimore over Kansas City 3-1. Washington had the day off, along with the Twins.

Cincinnati rapped Los Angeles 9-5, cutting the Dodgers' National League lead to 5 1/2 games over San Francisco, 5-3 winner over St. Louis. Philadelphia shaded the Chicago Cubs 8-7. Milwaukee trounced Houston 9-1, and Pittsburgh beat the New York Mets 7-2.

Frank Lary added another victory in his pitching comeback with the Tigers, with a seven-hitter against the Angels. He had a shaky start, gave up a fifth-inning homer to Jim Fregosi, then allowed just one hit the rest of the way. Lary is 4-6.

Ford, 19-7, limited the Red Sox to five hits, including Dick Stuart's 34th homer. Wilson also was stingy with the hits—five in his five innings—but generous with his wild pitches.

He uncorked one in the first inning, allowing Phil Linz to come in from third for the first Yankee run. Then in the fourth, on Wilson's second wild pitch of the inning, Clete Boyer scored from third and Linz flew all the way in from second—making it 4-1.

Hamburger, Ham Market Features

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's supermarkets are cooperating to help the labor out of meal-fixing this Labor Day weekend.

Hamburger and ground beef are widely featured for quick meals. Hams, picnics and Boston butts are easily prepared pork items. Chicken fryers are another entry in the simple meal derby.

Sandwich items include canned tuna and peanut butter. Eggs, especially small ones, are economically priced for egg-salad this weekend.

Those desiring a season-end cookout will find an ample supply of rib steaks and spare ribs at meat counters.

Small turkeys and quartered turkeys are other economical dishes that lend themselves to oven or grill preparation.

Vegetable selections continue broad, though some items are diminishing as the summer peak wanes. Beet buys nationally include green beans, cabbage, topped carrots, celery, bell peppers, tomatoes, cucumbers, potatoes, onions and lettuce.

Regional vegetable features include eggplant in the Northeast, blackeye peas and squash in the Southwest and artichokes and broccoli on the West Coast.

Among fruits, watermelon and cantaloupe are still the best buys. Other attractions include nectarines, peaches and plums, with some areas getting a good supply of apples. Grapefruit is attractively priced in the West.

Grape bargains will become increasingly attractive in price in coming weeks as a bumper crop comes to market.

Although the tomato originated in America, it was shunned as food in the United States until about a century ago.

Man Is Found Hanged to Death

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—Cecil Doyle George, 45, of Casa in Perry County, was found hanged Saturday night in his cell at the Conway County Jail in Morrilton. Sheriff Martin Hawkins said Coroner Robert Harris ruled the death a suicide.

The sheriff said George was found hanging from a cell bar with a belt around his neck.

Hawkins said George, a farmer, had been arrested only a few hours earlier on state Highway 9, south of Morrilton, on a charge of drunk driving.

The Battle of Blades Now Blazing

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Beatniks are out. But every shaving man is a target in the battle of the chins. All of the big U.S. razor blade makers are now in the stainless steel fracas started more than a year ago by a British invader.

The long lasting blade has been relatively scarce and regarded by some of its users as a status symbol.

The stainless steel blades and their older brothers made of carbon steel are now likely to be engaged in more of an economic battle. The struggle will be between the competitive American makes. And the victory may go to performance, or to retail price, or to cost of production and distribution — or to the willingness of the American male to change his ways.

The giant provider of the older and familiar razor blade, the Gillette Company, with about 70 per cent of the American market, says it will enter the stainless steel blade contest in New York and Philadelphia next week and across the nation by October.

Prosecution Could Face Students

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Fifty-four American students, who encountered the State Department's wrath by going to Cuba and Fidel Castro's red tape in getting out, hope to leave Madrid for New York Thursday.

Another student, Barry Hoffman, 26, of Brookline, Mass., left Cuba with the group Sunday but got off the airliner in Bermuda and flew to New York Monday. A State Department agent took up his passport and the FBI questioned him. Hoffman declined to talk to newsmen.

All 55 students face possible prosecution for violating a State Department ban on unauthorized travel to Cuba.

A group of Cuban exiles Greeted the Americans in Madrid with jeers.

The students declined to talk to newsmen but one of their leaders, Levi Laub of New York, said:

We will have plenty to say when we get home. We expect to have a public meeting, probably in New York Town Hall, in mid-September.

Of the 59 who arrived in Havana June 30 as guests of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Communist government, one, Warren Hill, 29, of Brooklyn, died July 14 while swimming a hotel pool. Two pregnant women and the husband of one of them did not make the homeward flight because the women were expected to give birth soon.

Spanish police took two of the students into custody when they failed to produce passports. One, identified as Charles N. Buchanan, was released when police accepted a temporary passport issued by Swiss officials in Cuba after he reportedly lost his American passport.

The other student was identified as Lee Ralsner. Friends said he lost his wallet containing documents.

The students were forced to take the 8,000-mile route, instead of a 90 mile hop from Havana to Miami, because of the U.S. ban on unauthorized travel between the United States and Cuba.

The students flew to Cuba via Prague, Czechoslovakia. The Castro government paid their transportation but hays and all expenses while they were official guests, until July 27. The students paid their own expenses after that date and some ran out of funds.

Any student convicted of violating the ban on travel to Cuba could be fined up to $5,000 and sentenced to five years in prison.

Most adult fireflies live only a few days. Though they have mouths, some are believed never to eat.

Merchandising the new multiple shave item since February are Shick (subsidiary of Eversharp and American Razor (Division of Philip Morris).

Starting the whole thing on this side of the Atlantic was a British sword maker. Blades made by Wilkinson Sword Ltd., a hit in England, were first imported in March 1962 and sold by American outlets for its better known products, garden tools. Advertised by word of mouth, they caught on fast and were hard to find.

But American production methods may soon make them commonplace.

Performance ultimately will be judged by the American males, each one doubtless convinced that his own chin is a special and peculiar problem.

Price differentials, at least at the start of the contest, are these: Wilkinson's usually sell at five for 75 cents or 15 cents a blade. Shick's and American razor's Personna double-edged blades are regularly priced at five for 79 cents. Gillette says it will retail its stainless steel blades at six for 89 cents, making them the cheapest at 14.83 cents a blade. The older, carbon steel, double-edged blades range from 3.5 cents to 6.9 cents a blade.

Production costs are the secrets of the competing companies, but the stainless steel blades are more difficult and more expensive to make. The American firms already had been making stainless steel blades in the mills of their European subsidiaries. Their new or converted American plants are reported capable of turning out many times the number of blades that Wilkinson has been allotting to its American market.

Make A Splash With Canned Dry Soup Mix

Swimming and supper go hand in hand. Whether it be at the pool in your own backyard or a nearby lake, the final event is food on the table.

A pool party doesn't need to be elaborate. "Soup in sandwiches" is a popular bit of fare and so easy to prepare... and so versatile. It can be adapted to the lightest, airiest luncheon menu, or to a hearty satisfying supper for swimmers.

Canned vegetables-dry soup mix (the mix with old-fashioned soup kettle flavor) makes a great center of attention on the outdoor buffet table. Chopped pepperoni, basil, and tomato juice add extra spiciness to the old-fashioned homemade flavor.

Shredded Parmesan cheese tops each bowl of soup for an extra tangy treat. For the sandwiches, other platters of cheese, tomato slices, and onions for "make-your-owns" on big crusty rolls. Hot coffee is a surprisingly welcome way to end a hot weather meal.

Pepperoni Vegetable Tureen
 3/4 cup chopped pepperoni
 2 1/2 cups water
 1 can (12 ounces) vegetable dry soup mix
 1/2 cup tomato juice

In saucepan, brown pepperoni with basil. Add water and soup mix; bring to boil. Partially covered, simmer 15 minutes, stirring now and then. Add tomato juice. Heat. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Breakfast A Grade-A Help!

Add a Hawaiian touch to your cereal and milk serving—just spoon crushed pineapple and a canned fig onto bowls of whole wheat flakes. To complete the menu serve buttered toast, milk, and beverage, if desired, for a breakfast that is adequate and quick and easy to prepare.

Mothers—you realize that your children need a good breakfast for energy and for growth. But do you know that their school work profits by a good breakfast, too? During the course of the Iowa Breakfast Studies on the role of breakfast in the diet regimen, an adequate breakfast, designated as a basic breakfast, was established. The basic breakfast is defined as one which provides the total daily protein allowance. During the experiment involving school boys, while the total daily food allowances were rigidly controlled and the boys were in school, the teacher in charge of the group made careful observations and records of the attitudes and scholastic attainments of the boys. The report showed that the majority of the boys had a definitely better attitude and a better scholastic record during the period when breakfast was included in the daily dietary regimen than when it was omitted. A basic cereal and milk breakfast pattern—fruit juice, cereal, milk, bread and butter or margarine, will be a material asset to your school-age boys and girls in the matter of attitude and scholastic attainment. There are many good reasons for you to check the breakfast habits of your family—and September, Better Breakfast Month, is a wise time to do this!

TV Bare of Redically New Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The new television season seems rather bare of radically different programs, but a couple of new offerings will be watched closely by industry trend-spotters.

One is NBC's "Richard Boone Show," a dramatic anthology series with a novel-for-television idea of using a repertory company of featured players.

The other is "Burke's Law," which hopes to combine sophisticated humor with homicide. If it strikes the public's fancy, it could initiate a cycle of shows in the sprightly mood of the old William Powell-Myrna Loy "Thin Man" movies.

In this new series, however, our hero is a clever captain of homicide who also is a handsome millionaire bachelor, absolutely irresistible to women. Gene Barry, late of "Bat Masterson," is the star.

One rumble around the Hollywood studios is that the series, stressing tongue-in-cheek situations and offbeat, way-out characters, could be the hit of the season.

Barry, delighted to be out of the Old West, describes the series as "pure entertainment — just plain fun."

Judy Garland, who has slimmered to worrisome matchstick proportions, is in a Hollywood hospital for what is described as her annual check-up. Her variety series, which lost its producer and writers by executive CBS decision, won't be resumed until mid-September. Only five shows have been taped.

May Not Need Extra Session

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Monday that even if an anti-poll tax amendment to the U.S. Constitution were ratified a special legislative session to set up a replacement for the poll tax system might not be needed.

Ratification of the proposed amendment is not expected to come before the end of this year. Faubus said a special session may not be needed because the amendment, if ratified by three-fourths of the states may specify that the poll tax system is repealed at some future date, and not at the immediate moment of ratification.

Faubus Silent About 6th Term

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus parried a reporter's question Monday as to whether he was seeking a sixth term. Faubus said he was not running now, but he wasn't taking himself out of the running, either. The governor has a heavy speaking schedule lined up for the next few months.

Wolf Killed in City

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A gray timber wolf was killed inside the Fort Smith city limits last week—the second such incident in the last five years.

Earl Young, manager of the Humane Society Shelter at Fort Smith, said it was a timber wolf. Police killed the animal after Mrs. George H. Thomas reported it was beneath her house.

Patrolman Ed Walker killed a wolf in Fort Smith five years ago in what amounted to hand-to-hand combat.

Charges U.S. Doubt Not Justified

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

Associated Press Staff Writer

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime charged today the U.S. State Department has shown a profoundly unjust doubt in the government of (South) Viet Nam, based on totally erroneous information.

A government note referred to a State Department declaration of Aug. 21 which deplored methods used by Vietnamese security forces against Buddhists on Aug. 21. Pagodas throughout the nation were raided and thousands of Buddhist monks and nuns were beaten, shot or arrested.

The government of Viet Nam reaffirms its determination to continue its policy of conciliation toward the Buddhists, the latest note said. But it is also resolved to unmask all political saboteurs hiding under various disguises.

The State Department declaration was called prejudicial to the honor and prestige of Viet Nam, which has never broken its word to whomever it made promises.

The note followed up a declaration by the joint military command in Saigon, broadcast by the official Viet Nam press, that high military officers persuaded Diem to impose martial law last week.

Army chiefs proposed the decree and are seeing that it is carried out, the broadcast said, quoting a communique from military headquarters.

The communique apparently was intended to rebut a statement by the U.S. State Department Monday that Viet Nam's military leaders had no warning of the plan to impose martial law.

Mobile squads roamed Saigon today and troop concentrations increased to guard against new demonstrations or suicides, but other signs pointed to a relaxation of martial law.

Barbed wire barricades were removed from the Saigon University area where 3,000 students were arrested Sunday and prevented from demonstration against the government of president Ngo Dinh Diem. Curfew regulations eased.

(A Viet Nam press broadcast monitored in Tokyo said many students had been released from a detention center. It also said some Saigon area schools closed during the weekend crisis will reopen Friday.)

The mobile squads apparently were assigned to make certain that no more Buddhists burn themselves to death.

Buddhists have been demonstrating against the government of Diem, a Roman Catholic, for months. They claim they have been deprived of freedom to practice their religion. Diem has denied it.

To gain public support, four monks and a nun have committed suicide by fire.

Wednesday, police and soldiers raided pagodas and arrested hundreds of monks and nuns. Martial law was declared.

Diem on Tuesday postponed indefinitely a National Assembly election set for Saturday. The decree indicated the government sees no quick end to the crisis that threatens to hamper its war against Communist guerrillas.

Quake Recorded on West Coast

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A strong earthquake centered about 5,400 miles southwest of Berkeley in the Fiji Islands was recorded by the University of California seismograph at 5:29 a.m. PDT (7:29 a.m. Eastern Standard Time) today.

Seismologist Don Tocher said the earthquake registered from 6 1/2 to 7 on the Richter scale which placed the 1906 San Francisco quake at 8 1/2. It was not known if the tremors were felt on any populated islands.

Leachville Gives Okay to Bonds

LEACHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Leachville residents voted 220 to 20 Monday in favor of a $120,000 bond issue to finance the expansion of three Leachville industries. The firms, all located in the same building, are Florafax Delivery Service, the National Florists Directory and Advance Printing. They employ 30 persons. The payrolls total more than $100,000 annually.

The expansion will be financed by bonds issued under Act 9 of 1960. The bonds will be paid off by rental payments on the building. No tax is involved.

Wages Below Minimum

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — During the past fiscal year 5,277 Arkansas employees were paid a total of $584,531 less than required by the federal Wage and Hour Act, the Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division at Little Rock said Thursday. Bill Guse, division supervisor, said workers at 1,057 establishments were due back wages for the 12 months ended June 30.

Approximately 60 per cent of U.S. hotel and motel rooms are air conditioned.

March Like Ghandis Walk to the Sea

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The crowd is bigger, the walk shorter, but Wednesday's massive civil rights march in Washington has the same symbolic purpose as Mohandas Gandhi's unforgettable salt march to the sea in 1930.

Gandhi was 61 then. With a loin-cloth and a cane and 78 followers he marched 241 miles to the sea in 21 days to inspire his people to protest British rule and more immediately to a British law which made it a crime for any Indian to have salt he hadn't paid tax on. By the time he reached the sea thousands of Indians had joined him.

Then on the beach he picked up some salt left by the waves. That was all. After that he withdrew. It was enough. Along India's long seacoast thousands of Indians waded into the water with pans and helped themselves to salt illegally.

It was their way of showing they were fed up. They got their freedom but not for another 17 years.

The march here will cover no more than a mile between the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial but perhaps 100,000 people, white and Negro, will take part.

It will be notice in a gigantic way that Negroes are fed up with the injustice of discrimination and segregation inflicted on them through all American history. More immediately it is notice they want Congress to pass a civil rights bill.

Only a few Indians shared Gandhi's dedication to the belief that justice could be obtained by non-violent means. But millions listened when he preached it and tried to practice it, not always successfully. There were blood baths.

In this country, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., a disciple of Gandhi and probably the most widely known Negro leader, has preached non-violence, too. Negroes have not always listened and sometimes responded to violence with violence.

No doubt there will be more of it before discrimination is ended. Because Indians loved Gandhi so widely and because he was the symbol of their hopes, he could persuade them to end violence by threatening to fast unto death.

American Negroes have no such single leader or rally point. In fact, the Negro leadership is split although the various groups are joining forces for the march here. They will no doubt be divided again when the march is over.

The Washington march cannot be credited to the inspiration of a single individual. It has deep roots, watered for centuries by white Americans who hugged their racial prejudice and for much of American history exploited Negroes.

It has been only in the last nine years that Negroes have learned they could hasten equal treatment and the rights guaranteed them only through direct and collective action.

The Supreme Court set equal treatment back by more than half a century when, in 1896, it ruled it was constitutional to segregate Negroes so long as they got equal treatment. This was a contradiction in itself. Segregation by its very nature meant inequality.

Yet, as early as 1917 the court began undoing what it had done in 1896. It outlawed a Louisville ordinance which established white and Negro residential districts.

Bit by bit over the following years the court banned other forms of segregation in suits brought by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

But it wasn't until May 17, 1954, when it banned public school segregation, that the court threw out entirely the 1896 opinion by declaring that segregation was unconstitutional.

Nevertheless, the South has fought school desegregation so adamantly that today, nine years later, less than 8 per cent of Negro school children in the south go to desegregated schools. That has been a slow, painful road.

Suddenly a Negro seamstress and a few Southern Negro leaders speeded up the whole pace of desegregation, even if the schools lagged. The woman was Rosa Parks of Montgomery, Ala.

On Dec. 1, 1955 she was arrested for refusing to move to the back of a bus. A Negro Pullman porter, E. D. Nixon, called the Rev. Mr. King that night and said "we have taken this kind of thing too long already."

He proposed that Montgomery Negroes boycott all buses. The Rev. Mr. King and others bought this idea of direct, non-violent resistance. For a year Montgomery Negroes stayed off the buses. Then, on Nov. 13, 1956, the Supreme Court ruled out bus segregation.

Next year nine Negro children were kept out of a Little Rock school. The federal government sent in troops.

Mrs. Parks, the nine children, the government's support, and the realization of what could be done by direct and collective action inspired the Negroes. On Feb. 1, 1960 Negroes moved in a new direction.

Four of them, college students, began a sit-in at a white lunch counter. Sit-ins spread through the South. So did demonstrations. In 1961 more than 1,000 whites and Negroes took part in freedom rides led by the Congress of Racial Equality.

By then Negroes had grown impatient with the NAACP which had relied so long, and successfully, on seeking progress through court action.

Negro demonstrations piled up until this year, after racial explosions in Birmingham and Jackson, Miss., President Kennedy sent Congress a stronger civil rights program than any president has offered in 100 years.

Smokejumper Is Like a Judo Expert

An AP Special Report By WARREN J. BRIER

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — A smokejumper is somewhat like a trail judo expert who climbs into the ring with a heavyweight.

He faces a larger, and stronger foe. But he knows that one swift, precise blow—if timed and placed correctly—can topple his opponent.

An elite corps of 175 men, on standby at Missoula throughout the summer, can be ready in minutes to fly to any area in the nation. Actually, most jumps occur in the Pacific Northwest, principally Montana and Idaho. But Missoula-based men also parachute into fires in Alaska or New Mexico.

Dedicated in 1954 by President Eisenhower, the Missoula smokejumper center was officially named the Missoula Aerial Fire Depot. The site includes a sizable training area that looks much like an Army paratrooper school. It is the largest of eight such facilities in the nation.

We take considerable pride in our training program," says Henry J. Viche, air operations officer. We've made 55,000 jumps since 1940 without a fatality, caused during the descent or landing.

About 1,000 young men apply for smokejumper duty at Missoula each summer. We take about 60 of them. We're choosy, and we keep our standards high."

An applicant is rejected if he hasn't worked one summer on a regular fire suppression crew.

Our typical smokejumper," says Viche, is a college student about 24. He must meet demanding physical requirements but there are no limitations on academic background. We get them from all fields—we often get applifications from divinity students."

Viche, born in Missoula, has been with the U.S. Forest Service for 34 years.

Viche directs all aerial operations in Region One—33-million-acres that includes all of Montana and parts of Idaho, Washington and North Dakota.

Foresters say the secret of the smokejumper's success is speed. The sooner we get to a fire, the better the chance of controlling it," says Viche. Once a fire spreads over thousands of acres, we have to work on several fronts.

Eighty per cent of the fires still are small when we get to them. We're able to confine them quickly."

First-year men are paid $2.20 an hour—a rate that also applies from all fields—we often get ap-

Killed in Wreck WEST PLAINS, Mo. (AP) — Marion Hammond, 36, was killed and a passenger in his car, Elmer White, critically injured Tuesday night when their small, foreign-made auto went out of control on U.S. 63 near Mammoth Springs.

Trimble at Work By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James W. Trimble, D-Ark., went back to work Thursday after staying home several weeks due to illness. Trimble went into the hospital with an attack of kidney stones. Doctors recommended he stay at home after his release when they found he had a low pulse and high blood pressure. Trimble said he returned to work Thursday because of numerous votes on amendments to the foreign aid authorization bill and will be at his office daily from now on.

Typhoid Cases LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three new typhoid fever cases in Arkansas were reported Tuesday by the state Health Department's Division of Communicable Disease Control. The new cases, in Cross, Garland and Yell counties, raised to 22 the total number reported this year — Three more than for the same period last year.

Ark. The car overturned and hit a roadside embankment. Both men are from West Plains.

Cheers for Peanut Butter and Jelly

SCHOOL DAYS . . . and youngsters vote again for their perennial lunch box favorite — peanut butter and grape jelly — of course!

Mother approves too because this duo is quick-n-easy to prepare, economical and nutritious. Peanut butter is 26% protein, the nutritional element needed for proper growth, and rates high in the B vitamins and iron as well. The jelly helps supply plenty of energy needed for top performance during a hectic school day.

Try these new ideas the next time you team peanut butter and jelly.

DAFFY DOUGHNUTS — Cut plain or sugared doughnuts in half crosswise. Spread one cut side with peanut butter, the other with grape jelly. Sprinkle peanut butter with a few raisins. Put together as for a sandwich.

FOUR STRIPER — For one sandwich, combine 2 tablespoons peanut butter, 1 tablespoon jelly and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Spread on white bread. Top with a slice of whole wheat bread. Cut in four strips. Wrap for school lunch with white and whole wheat bread alternately, to get striped effect.

PEANUT-JELLY ROLL — Use a roll instead of bread for your sandwich. Split roll. Spread 2 tablespoons of peanut butter on one half. Sprinkle with corn flakes or your favorite cereal. Spread 1 tablespoon jelly on the other half and put roll together.

Food Sense Not Nonsense

An Ace in the Hole Helps

In a tug of war, the fellow with an ace in the hole is apt to win. Dieters may have another kind of reserve ace in their tug of war against hunger. The ace? Eating foods with a generous starch-carbohydrate content—such as bread, cereal, and potatoes—rather than sugar. Research in progress at the State University of Iowa has cast starch-carbohydrate foods in the envied role of appetite appeasers.

This role was indicated, Dr. Margaret Ohlson told a recent nutrition conference, in a series of experiments designed to learn the relation of nutrition to heart disease. Bread, cereal, and potatoes, she and her fellow researchers found, satisfied hunger almost too well. Subjects on a test diet—in which the form of carbohydrate was switched from sugar to starch on a calorie for calorie basis—complained bitterly of feeling "stuffed," even after four weeks. All subjects would have lost weight, Dr. Ohlson said, if they were allowed to stop eating when their hunger was appeased. Sugar had no such satisfying effect.

This ace in the hole for dieters is assuming added meaning in light of other heart disease research. Of all the food groups, Dr. Ohlson pointed out, only these with a generous store of starch-carbohydrates apparently can be eaten freely without increasing the troublesome fatty substances in the blood which are implicated in coronary heart disease.

Make use of this reserve ace, advise many nutrition scientists to dieter and non-dieter alike. In daily eating, emphasize foods with a generous starch-carbohydrate content to help make you a winner.

Where's your horse? 'I said, from sure I wasn't dreaming. No caballo, señor. We've build the boat," the vaquero Pablo said. I looked again at that wild stretch of water. Come in, I grumbled. I'll get you a drink."

"The medicinal properties, I decided as I poured, might well provide a needed tonic for myself. So I had one with him. He set down his glass, loudly splashing his lips. And still, not quite taking him in, I stared. So," I said, shaking my head you built a boat. Just like that. Couldn't wait I suppose, until the river went down?"

But no, señor. The patron ees t'row baige—what you call beeg weendeeng' tonight. For the Don Patricio of the Customs. You are particular cervite — the Señor Dorrus, also. Mirar!" He drew a faded paper from his shirt.

"Opening it, I read: Mr. Benson—

In the morning Mr. Garrett is leaving for Del Norte. Tonight we are having a few people in — a kind of party. I was asked especially to invite yourself and Mr. Dorrus. —Linda Ybarra

Please come. Pablo has instructions to bring you in the boat. I read it again and was not reassured. It appeared, on the face of it, innocuous enough. But there was a kind of subtle afterwash, distinctly disquieting, an urgency, almost that put my hackles.

There'd been nothing said yesterday about Garrett leaving, no mention of a party. Pablo has instructions. . . . Pablo the impetuous who had worked in Del Norte.

I refilled Pablo's glass and, gnawing my lip peered again out across that tumbling, turgid, debris laden river that looked to be at least three times its normal width. How had the fool ever made it!

I splashed out another tott for Bancroft Benson.

It had the teeth of a beaver the scald capacity of boiling lava, but it did not flush the chill from my bones. If Ybarra's aim was to safely be rid of us, he could hardly have discovered a more practical solution.

But was this his aim?

Was he trying to get rid of us or only to confront us at a time and in a place where all the advantages could be stacked up behind him? If so, to what purpose? Could he be so incensed over a handful of scrawny cattle?

Unsure, confused, and considerably disturbed, I turned to find, in the open door behind Ybarra's man the scowling whiskered shape of Dorrus with a white knuckled fist wrapped about the butt of his pistol.

Pablo coming around in his tracks, went breathless y still, losing most of his color. Though Shirl's gun was not drawn it looks stood for anything there was scarcely a shout between that Mex and eternally.

Shirl jabbed out a hand. Lem-me lookit that thing."

We don't know she actually wrote it," I cautioned, passing it to him.

Dorrus reading, abruptly crumpled the note and flung it away. His eyes burned at Pablo. Get yer chin ag'in that wall!"

Let's not do anything hasty," I said.

All it got out of Shirl was a look of contempt. Pablo, eyes rolling, peered fearfully at me before, crossing himself with a look of stoic fatalism, he did as ordered and belied the wall.

Shirl was top dog with that gun. After slapping the Mexican over for weapons he ordered me out and following, kicked the door shut.

A child could have sensed the fury that had hold of him. With his chopped-off ears and broken snags and that scraggle of beard swirling over his jaws he was not a very comforting sight, I can tell you.

He came straight to the point. What kind of deal have you ribbed up with them?"

I knew then what kind of mad dog I'd learned up with. The frenzy of violence boiling back of that stare left no doubt of his proclivities. The man was a killer with no more compunctions than a prodded snake.

It was sheer desperation that pulled words out of me. If you believe that, we better tear up those papers."

What else kin I think?"

Think?" I said. Don't make me laugh!" and with shaking knees slammed around to stalk off. Spun about I stood gingerly flexing my arm, somewhat astonished he hadn't yanked it clean out of the socket.

He looked ugly enough. That ain't a patch to what yer kin look fer if I ever find reason to really take hold. Now start singin'!"

I don't have any idea what they're—"

Never mind them! I wasn't borned yestiday! You won't ketch me gain' over that river! If you got half the savvy of a blind gopher, you—"

This Pastor Is Jack of All Trades

By BOB HARING

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—Mr. Enthusiasm is the name for Russell Martin.

His energy embraces such diverse fields as the ministry and sports announcing for a radio station. He also travels extensively on evangelistic crusades, writes songs and is active in civic affairs of this northeastern Oklahoma town.

Martin is minister of the First Christian Church. He also is sports director for the radio station and, in that capacity, broadcasts dozens of football and basketball games of area high schools and Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College.

Yet Martin rarely misses Sunday in his own pulpit. And he has led his church to first in baptisms among both Disciples and New Testament Christian Churches in Oklahoma. In his 17 years here, membership has grown from 450 to 1,900.

A feature of the church is the Kiddie Kollege," a program conducted each Wednesday after school to encourage youngsters to memorize Scripture on which the church's beliefs are based. Martin helped organize a boys' baseball program about seven years ago. More than 600 youngsters now play in three leagues.

Mrs. Martin is active, too. She recently took a group of girls from the church on a tour of Bible colleges and frequently takes part in clinics at Ozark Bible College in nearby Joplin, Mo.

She also runs the Martin home, where five of their six children still live. One daughter is married and the Martins have three grandchildren.

Martin was graduated from Cincinnati Bible College in 1940 and spent five years in evangelistic work before he came here.

He recently was elected vice president of the American Christian Church Convention.

University Grant

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Southwestern Electric Power Co. has granted the University of Arkansas $721,000 to conduct basic research into controlled exploding wires. One of the goals will be investigation of methods whereby electricity can be produced by fusion rather than by the conventional boiler-generator method.

The National Geographic Society chose Amelia Earhart as the first woman to receive its Special Gold Medal, for being the first woman to make a solo trans-Atlantic air crossing. President Herbert Hoover presented her the medal.

Cadets to Camp

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Some 200 Arkansas and Oklahoma Civil Air Patrol Cadets will attend a one-week summer encampment at Ft. Chaffee, beginning Aug. 25. Col. James A. Wellons, Arkansas CAP wing commander, said facilities for the encampment have been enlarged. Formerly only 75 cadets could attend, he said.

Calls Report Silly

WASHINGTON (AP)—Associates of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., termed ridiculous Tuesday a report by The Newsletter, a weekly publication of the Republican Congressional Committee, that the representative would accept an appointment to the U.S. Supreme Court. Mills could not be contacted for comment.

Vacancies Filled

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Three men were named Tuesday by the Secretary of State's office to fill vacancies on county election commissions. They were, by name and county board: Lois Horton, Marshall; Searcy; E. R. Planaglia, Forrest City; St. Francis; and Sam D. Alphin, El Dorado, Union.

March Won't Impress the Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Today's giant civil rights march—provided there is no violence to change the picture—doesn't figure to impress Congress much although it will leave imprints on whites and Negroes.

One of the purposes of the demonstration, besides protesting racial injustices, was to try to pressure Congress into passing President Kennedy's civil rights bill. But, orderly or not, it will not change Southern Democrats' opposition. Others in House and Senate have already made up their minds on how they will vote, either out of conviction or what they think is politically shrewd.

That leaves the fence-sitters to impress. They, too, will do what they think is right or expedient. A completely orderly march might affect some of them favorably. That could make a difference in a tight vote in Congress.

If white prejudice with all its discrimination didn't exist, North and South, there would be no need at all for this march of Negroes demanding equal treatment almost 100 years after the Civil War.

But the march itself, and the demands of the speakers, won't dent the prejudices built up over lifetimes and generations. Some of the prejudiced will resent the Negro even more for asserting himself.

What the march will certainly do, if there is no disorder to confuse the problem, is demonstrate the Negro is fed up waiting for the same treatment white people get and has learned how to demand it through collective effort. He couldn't do any demanding until nine years ago when the Supreme Court declared the principle of segregation itself unconstitutional. The law was against him. All he could do was chip away through law suits. Even so, the prejudiced, with the law now on the side of the Negro, have refused to end the various discriminations until compelled. The Negro has had to ram them with sit-ins, street demonstrations, picketing.

It was in doing so that Negroes came to the realization they were helpless individually but together could hasten what they wanted. This march in Washington today is simply a kind of dramatic climax to that realization. To even the most prejudiced today's spectacle is evidence, if any were needed, that the Negro is determined to get justice.

This has unpleasant implications for whites who don't want to yield: more turmoil and disorder, perhaps on an even greater scale, if nonviolent efforts collapse in violence, as they have been doing increasingly. The Kennedy bill was intended to eliminate a number of potential trouble areas. It isn't clear yet whether Congress will approve. But after today's display of solidarity, at least in what is wanted, Negroes can be expected to push even harder. It will be an encouragement to them.

But while there is solidarity on what is wanted among Negroes, there isn't on how or where or when to achieve it.

The Negro leadership, although it is unified for today's program, is divided and no doubt will resume its divisions after today. This to some extent will divide Negroes generally on the strategy to use and may cause conflict among them.

A solid front, under a central leadership might be more effective. But divided and unpredictable actions have a certain psychological value for Negroes, since they will keep their white opponents guessing.

Child Actors Rarely Regain Their Fame

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Wheat happens to child stars in television series after their options have been dropped?

Are they washed up at 10, 13 or 17? A survey shows they seem to do all right, although few regain the fame they knew in their series.

Jay North, Dennis the Menace, hasn't acted since the series ended in April. He finished some personal appearance dates then took a Hawaiian holiday this summer.

Lee Aker, once the pal of Rin Tin Tin, is 19 and an assistant location manager for the Route 66 company.

Eleanor Donahue eldest daughter in Father Knows Best, had a season in The Andy Griffith Show, then dropped out to have a baby. Eleanor, wife of screen gems official Harry Ackerman, does guest shots in several series.

Johnny Crawford, Chuck Connors' son in Rifleman, has been appearing in a western film, Indian Paint.

Lori Martin, the second National Velvet girl (Elizabeth Taylor was the first), has been going to school since the series folded. There isn't much work for a girl my age, laments Lori, now 16.

Tony Dow, the older brother of Leave it to Beaver, has done a Mr. Novak and My Three Sons and is up for a continuing role in another series.

Jerry Mathers Beaver himself, has virtually retired at 15. Shelley Fabares outgrew the Donna Reed Show; the explanation is that she's away at college.

Richard Keith, who played young Ricky in the I Love Lucy series, is 12 and has had occasional television roles.

Here is news to make you feel your age. Remember Tommy Rettig, first pal of Lassie? Now a free-lancer, he's 21 and father of two.

High Court to Meet Monday

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court's summer recess ends next Monday, but the court is not expected to hand down any decisions then. It will hear oral arguments in a workmen's compensation case appealed from Ouachita Circuit Court. Nineteen other cases will be taken under submission.

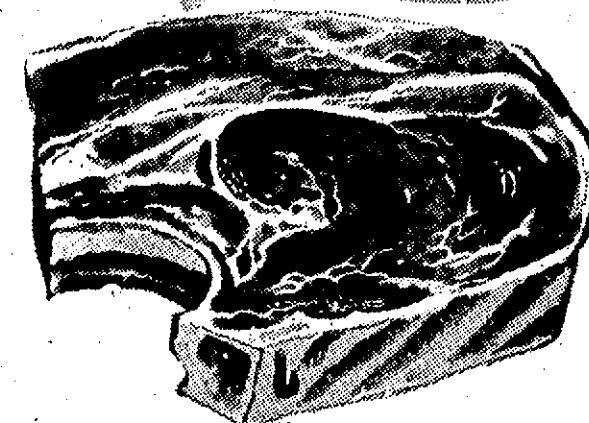

Actor Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Larry Keating, 67, veteran character actor who appeared in movies, television and radio, died Monday of leukemia. Keating had been ill about six months but continued performing as a regular in the cast of television's "Mr. Ed" until last week. He was born in St. Paul, Minn.
